Tucson Parks and Recreation

FROM THE DIRECTOR

This past June, the City of Tucson was once again recognized as a 2016 Playful City USA honoree. We are proud to have been one of the first to be recognized back in 2007 and pleased to have continued that designation over the past ten years. There are so many ways to play in Tucson and the benefits of play are endless.

Tucson Parks and Recreation can be a great tool to help you stay active and get fit. While the temperatures are still scorching hot, check out one of our indoor walking tracks or weight rooms with cardio equipment at many of our 16 recreation centers throughout Tucson. Once it cools down, take a walk or run around one of our many multi-use paths within the parks and use the outdoor fitness stations.

As the kids head back to school, please don't forget that the fun never stops at Tucson Parks and Recreation. Register and try something new this fall or continue to develop new skills in an activity you already enjoy. Call to reserve a Ramada in one of our beautiful parks for your next birthday party, picnic or family outing. Rental options also are available for wedding receptions, meetings, and sports events. The Reid Park Rose Garden, which received the Garden of the Year award from the American Rose Society in 2012, will be in full bloom again in October and November.
– Fred Gray

Rio Vista Natural Resource Park

Social service groups and local businesses will be building a meditation garden at Rio Vista Park. The project consists of a small walking path, benches, landscaping and masonry walls. “The idea behind this, and the idea that brought all these people together, is to provide a place of quiet contemplation for people who are grieving a loss or for people who just want a quiet place to be in natural surroundings,” said Mayor Jonathan Rothschild. The project is being implemented entirely through donations of labor, materials or cash contributions. If you wish to make a donation, go to: www.tucsonparks.org

Tucson Rodeo Grounds

This project includes a large shade structure over the plaza area just north of the arena. New paving for the plaza, new retaining walls and railings for the north arena and lighting will also be included.
