BANK ROBBERY SUSPECT MARCH 18, 2013

The Tucson Police Department is seeking the public's assistance in locating a suspect that attempted one bank robbery and then successfully committed a bank robbery later in the day. On March 18, 2013 at 11:55 a.m., the suspect walked into the Bank of America located at 2885 North Campbell Avenue wearing an AC/DC shirt and black pants along with some sort of wig and either a mask or facial makeup. He handed a bag to the victim teller and ordered the teller to fill the bag with money. The teller was protected by bullet proof glass and refused to give the money to the suspect. He fled on foot westbound and was not located. No one was injured during the incident.

At 1:29 p.m., a suspect believed to be the same suspect from the earlier attempt entered the Bank of America located at 6285 East Broadway wearing a purple shirt, black dress pants, black dress shoes, a golfers cap, a black suitcase, using a cane and walking with a limp. He had either a mask or some heavy makeup on his face. He handed a bag to the victim teller and ordered the teller to fill it with money. He was given an undisclosed amount of money and fled on foot in an unknown direction. No one was injured during the incident.

The suspect description varied as either a Caucasian, Hispanic or African American male, 6'00" to 6'03" tall, medium build, bald with a facial disfigurement described as possible burn scars on his cheeks. Surveillance photographs are included below. Anyone with information is urged to call 911 or 88-CRIME.
