

Art Types | Public Art Master Plan

Houghton Road Corridor: Tanque Verde to I-10 Improvement Project | Nina Borgia-Aberle, Blessing Hancock and Stephen Grede | June 2010

INTEGRATED ART

Art that is integrated within infrastructure means that it is physically attached to or exists as an aspect of the infrastructure.

INTEGRATED WALLS

Agave Americana, Nina Borgia-Aberle and Stephen Grede

Agave Fan Relief, Kevin Osborn

Pusch View Extension
Nina Borgia-Aberle and Stephen Grede

River Road, Barbara Grygutis

Una Vida, Las Artes

Saratoga Creek Trail, Linda Patterson

Tattoo, Las Artes

Unser Boulevard, Jack Mackie

Milagros del Barrio, Las Artes

Las Mascaras, Las Artes

INTEGRATED FENCING | RAILS

Big Flowers, Jean Whitesavage and Nick Lyle

River Road, Barbara Grygutis

Kissing Birds, Nina Borgia-Aberle and Stephen Grede

Pusch View Extension Rail, Nina Borgia-Aberle and Stephen Grede

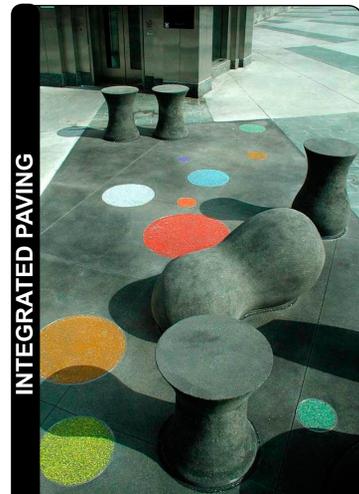

Lincoln Park, Moira Geoffron

Rillito River Alamo Wash, Robin Riley

INTEGRATED PAVING

The Beppins, Los Angeles MTA
Tom Marble and Pae White

Silicon Forest, Tree Ring Paving inset
Brian Borello

Pusch View Extension Paver Pattern
Nina Borgia-Aberle and Stephen Grede

From the Laws of Man to the Laws of Nature, Ellen Sollod

ENVIRONMENTAL ART

Environmental Art focuses on interrelationships between humans and nature and may use natural materials and landscapes to convey meaning. Environmental art may restore damaged ecosystems and landscapes or may simply interpret historical, social, and environmental information.

Ecology Stones, Valerie Otani and Fernanda D'Agostina

Tilt, Steven Siegel

The Laughing Brook, Jackie Brookner

The Gift of Water, Jackie Brookner

Ecology Stones, Valerie Otani and Fernanda D'Agostina

To See Jennie Smile, Steven Siegel

Harrison Ave. Traffic Circle, Ellen Sollod

Horsetail Head, Valerie Otani and Fernanda D'Agostina

Terraced Cascade, Chaparral Park, Lorna Jordan

Longfellow Park, Lorna Jordan

Grass Paper Glass, Steven Siegel

STAND ALONE ART

Stand-alone art consists of sculptural artworks that are placed within the right of way where there is adequate space and viewing opportunity.

Coffee Pot Pergola, Paul Sorey

Redtail, Michael Stutz

Propform, Brian Borello

Frisco Flyer, Larry Kirkland

Homage to History, Nina Borgia-Aberle and Stephen Grede

Socorro Wheel of History, Claudia DeMonte and Ed McGowan

Nest, Thomas Sayre

Pacific Waterleaf and Shooting Star, Jean Whitesavage and Nick Lyle

Double Leaf Ramada, Nina Borgia-Aberle and Stephen Grede

Astride, Aside, Michael Stutz

Stacking Tower, Thomas Sayre

Maple Leaf Park Gazebo
Jean Whitesavage and Nick Lyle

Magnolia Arch, Jean Whitesavage and Nick Lyle