Equal Employment Opportunity Plan Summary

October 1, 2015 through September 30, 2016

Judicial Administration 28 CFR 42.304 for a written Equal Employment Opportunity Program

Program Overview

The City of Tucson is richly represented with a diverse population. A commitment exists to create a workforce reflective of the community that the City serves. For this reason, the City has historically taken affirmative steps to ensure that the City offers equal opportunity in employment.

The City of Tucson has documented a variety of employment practices and compensation policies in its Administrative Directives. Civil Service Commission Rules and Regulations cover employment practices as they relate to officers and positions of employment in the Classified Service. The Tucson Police Department's General Orders also includes policies related to employment and compensation for employees of TPD.

The City of Tucson Equal Opportunity Programs Division (EOPD) of Human Resources monitors the hiring and promotion of permanent employees. The EOPD obtains a Certification of Equal Employment Opportunity (CEEO form) from the hiring authority or designee for each selection. The form summarizes the pool of candidates considered by the hiring department and reasons for their selection and non-selection. This provides a meaningful way for the EOPD to monitor the selection process. The EOPD coaches hiring authorities on sound equal employment opportunity practices. The EOPD interfaces with departments on an ongoing basis with regard to hiring and employment practices and provides relevant EEO reports to keep them apprised of progress or areas of concern.

Employees who believe that they have been discriminated against may file a complaint with the EOPD. The EOPD investigates such complaints and reports its findings to the complainant and respondent departments. When discrimination is found, corrective measures are taken. The EOPD also receives referrals to conduct investigations from the Mayor and Council, the City Manager's Office and from managers and/or directors.

The City of Tucson has established a Recruiting & Talent Management Team (RTM) within the Human Resources Department to actively recruit applicants of protected groups and women for all job categories. RTM also attends regular job fairs and various educational institutions to attract a broader array of applicants from places such as: Pima Community College, Brookline College and the University of Arizona, as well as The Veterans Administration and a Second Chance Job Fairs for convicted felons.

The City of Tucson has developed the Ban the Box Policy which ensure the consistent application of the City of Tucson's policies governing the screening of employment applications of persons with criminal histories. Applicants will be considered for employment opportunities based on the merits of their skills and experience related to the position for which they are applying.

Employees are encouraged to participate in the Tuition Reimbursement Program to upgrade their skills and education. The City of Tucson offers training designed to enhance an employee's ability to assume positions of greater responsibility including intern and leadership training. The City has taken steps to assure that women and minorities are afforded equal access to city training opportunities.

Workforce and Personnel Action Statistics Summary for 2015-2016
