

How about down there, Water Lily, is the Dribbler down there?

You won't find the Dribbler out here in the desert! All these desert plants and animals are masters at conserving water. No Dribbler here!

WOW, we could all learn something from them!

Hey, That's TUCSON! Can we find the Dribbler down there?

WOW! Lily, these kids are smart!

Jumping jackrabbits! You're getting it kids! His favorite hangouts are all around town, where ever people use water.

That's right the Dribbler hangs out where there's water, and we all use water at home.

Great work kids! Maybe you do have hydro vision!

HEY! this is MY house!!!

Looks like the Dribbler was here!
